AP
2
.A332
V.11
1886

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

PAGE

CHURCH AND STATE—IN ENGLAND. By Arthur F. Marshall, B.A. (Oxon.), . 1

Political bearings of Disestablishment, 1; The English Church and the Scotch Kirk, 2; The many measures which the question of principle must affect, 3; How the matter stands in equity, 4; How Churchmen view the change sympathetically, 5; Equivocal character of the Church itself, 6; How Dissenters view the change, 8; Is the scope of the arguments in favor of the pruning knife or of the axe? 9; The question of first principles in the matter, 11; The final Anglican fallacy, 12; Why Catholics should regret the obliteration of the Church of England, 13; Reasons for supposing that it will be let alone for some time yet, 14.

HOW IRELAND HAS KEPT THE FAITH SINCE CROMWELL'S TIME. By Bryan J. Clinche, ... 16

The Cromwellian episode in the history of English Protestantism, 16; Condition of Ireland at the accession of Charles II., 17; The Irish hierarchy at that time, 18; Preparatory training for the Priesthood, 19; Irish seminaries on the Continent, 20; The English Government creating dissensions among the Irish Catholics, 21; Primate Plunkett, the brief respite under James II., 22; Violation of the treaty of Limerick, 23; The bitter persecution of the eighteenth century, 24; Laws against trade, industry, and education, 25; Setting a premium on apostasy, 26; The great bulk of the Irish Catholics reduced to the lowest poverty, 27; The merciless charter schools, 28; Fruitlessness of the persecution, 29; Final triumph of Irish Faith, 30.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE VISITATION NUNS IN THE WEST. By Paul R. Shipman, ... 31

Origin and character of the Visitation Order, 31; Its founders, 32; Its introduction into this country and establishment in the Diocese of Baltimore, 33; One of the fairest and most vigorous of the Mother Convent's offspring, 35; Difficulties of a journey from Baltimore to the Mississippi, 35; A comedy act on the Mississippi, 36; The Nuns' arrival at Kaskaskia and their first friends there, 37; Offered shelter by the Morrisons, 38; Fitting up a convent, 39; Compelled to seek larger quarters, 40; Finally installed in a fairly comfortable building, 41; Increase of both boarders and day scholars, 42; Their first Christmas in the West, 43; Was it a ghost? 44; Resolving to erect a building of their own, 45; Description of and life in their new house, 46; Difficulties attending bricklaying there, 47; An intensely cold winter, 48; Nearly all the Sisters are taken ill, 49; A particularly sad death, 50; The first and last superior at Kaskaskia, 51; Catastrophe befalls Kaskaskia, 52; In what condition Bishops Kenrick and Quarter found the place, 53; Rescued and taken to St. Louis, 53; The Nuns' first home in St. Louis, 54; The community again permanently unified, 55; Building a permanent home, 56; The prosperity and fame it has since attained, 57.

WHAT ARE ANIMALS AND PLANTS? By Prof. St. George Mivart, F.R.S., 58

How animals and plants stand toward each other, 58; Things that have here to be taken into account, 59; Classes of inorganic substances, 60; Contrasts between the non-living and living world, 61; The six very remarkable powers of protoplasm, 62; Characteristics of every living creature, 63; Alliance between habit and instinct, 65; How we ought to regard the world of living creatures, 66; The influence of surrounding nature upon our knowledge, 67; Men of science and the doctrine of vital force, 68; Illustrating the life of an organism, 69; Supremacy of human reason, 70; The essential distinction between living beings and those devoid of life, 71; The most certain object of all knowledge, 72; The relations of animals and plants to each other, 73; The most obvious distinctions between them, 74; Animal characteristics that plants have not, 75.

THE ENCYCLICAL "IMMORTALE DEI." By Rt. Rev. F. S. Chatard, D.D., . 76

The present condition of the Christian World, 76; The Pope on civil society and authority, 77; Revolution as now advocated by the secret societies, 79; What the Holy Father says about the Church in its relation to the State, 80.

WHAT CAN BE DONE FOR THE ORPHANS? By John Gilmary Shea, LL.D., 81

The orphans have always been a constant parochial charge in this country, 81; Necessity and increase of orphan asylums, 82; How the orphans are disposed of, 83; Difficulties in their way, 84; Practical experiments with orphans, 85; What might further be done, 86; Reasons for removing asylums from cities, 87; Catholics must never regard orphans as a burthen, 88.

PAGE

THE PRESENT AND FUTURE OF THE IRISH QUESTION. By "C." 89

Result of the British elections of 1885, 89; The change does not mean an immediate concession of self-government to Ireland, 90; National independence in the idea of Irish Home Rule, 91; English opinion not the only factor to be conciliated, 92; English greed of power the great obstacle to Home Rule, 93; The amount of Home Rule that will satisfy both England and Ireland, 94; The difficulty about the control of the police, 95; The concessions that England may give, 96; England's sacrifice a very serious and material one, 97; The connection with the Empire which Ireland would accept, 98; The material difficulties in the way may be speedily disposed of, 99.

THE SUPERNATURAL AND INTELLECTUAL DEVELOPMENT. By F. J. Cummings, ... 100

Vulgar confusion as to the nature and influence of religion, 100; The line of argument to be pursued in the present instance, 101; The doctrines of the modern school and the rejection of the supernatural, 102; Inflicting injury on both philosophy and literature, 103; Poets, to be great, must be Christians, 104; A picture of mediæval scholasticism, 105; But the scholastics were not faultless, 107; What is requisite to appreciate the great mediæval giants, 108; The lesson derived from the proper study of poetry, 109; The poetic deification of nature, 110; The pictures which poetry should present to us, 111; A state of existence baffling all human inquiry, 113; What keeps man from being a monster, 113; The influence of the supernatural upon poetry is incalculable, 114.

A NATIONAL CATHOLIC LIBRARY. By "S.," 115

The public and private Catholic libraries that already exist, 115; Absence of Catholic books from the public secular libraries, 116; Catholic books in the private libraries of Protestants, 117; Protestant ignorance of Catholic doctrines and practices, 118; A grand central Catholic library is needed, 119; A case which especially calls for endowments, 120; The good arising from the proposed library, 121; It must have smaller local libraries to assist it, 122.

ST. CYPRIAN AND THE ROMAN SEE. By Arthur H. Cullen, ... 123

The distorted view of St. Cyprian held by Anglicans, 123; How they come into conflict with St. Augustine, 124; Anglicans cannot understand the grace of humility, 125; Various interpretations given by the enemies of the Papacy, 126; A thoroughly Anglican and illogical idea, 127; Scope of Ballerini's interpretation, 128; Other views of the celebrated passage, 129; St. Cyprian's speech at the Council of Carthage, 130; Another awkward Anglican position, 131; How the Saint speaks of the Roman See in other passages, 132; Real meaning of the words under consideration, 133; Consistency requires this interpretation, 134; The other bishops at the Council, 135; The primacy of St. Peter, 136; Consideration of other extracts from St. Cyprian's writings, 137; Why he would not fall into glaring inconsistency, 138; The leading idea in his mind, 139.

A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF FATHER ROBERT MOLYNEUX, S.J. By Rev. William P. Treacy, S.J., ... 140

Life in Philadelphia during the War of Independence, 140; Religious ministration for the Catholic soldiers, 141; Character of Father Molyneux, 142; Distinguished Catholic laymen then in Philadelphia, 143; The education of the youth, 144; Arduous, incessant, and fruitful labors of Father Molyneux, 145; Sketch of his career, 146; His missions after leaving Philadelphia, 147; Restoration of the Society of Jesus, 149; Early Jesuit missionaries in Philadelphia, 150; Father Molyneux's virtues, 151; His many distinguished friends, 152; His end, 153.

A FEW WORDS MORE ON THE NEW BIBLE. By Rt. Rev. J. A. Corcoran, D.D., 154

Predictions against revision that were of no avail, 154; Professor Marsh's reasons against revision, 155; But revision has come, notwithstanding, 156; Awkward position of the American revisers, 157; Is this revision a success? 158; Some of the sectarian dross still remains, 159; An example in point, 160; Calvin's interpretation of St. James, 161; Catholics would not alter the text, 162; Protestant dishonesty in regard to the text, 163; Shirking difficulties, 164; Liberalistic tendency of the revisers, 165; Illustration by example, 166; St. Jerome and the revisers, 167; The next revision will be done by Americans, 168.

SCIENTIFIC CHRONICLE. By Rev. J. M. Degni, S.J., ... 169

Scientific education, 169; Astronomy—New star in Andromeda, 171; Physics and chemistry—Electrical furnaces and the aluminium compounds, 172; Decomposition of didymium, 173; Composite photography, 174; Geology—Flood-rock explosion as an artificial earthquake, 176.

THE ROMAN QUESTION. By Rt. Rev. James O'Connor, D.D., ... 193

Material improvements in Rome since 1870, 193; A well-behaved people and dull business, 194; Excessive taxation, prison reports, the poor, 195; The charities of Rome, 196; Charities founded by the Popes, suppressed by the Piedmontese invaders, 197; The temporal power of the Pope, 198; The electoral body in Italy, 199; Italy's present condition is very sad indeed, 200; How will the temporal power be restored? 201; Reasons why the Pope should be free, 202; He should be free in appearance as well as in fact, 203; Nature of the temporal power, 204; Political life in Rome after 1870, 205; The outrage to the remains of Pope Pius IX., 206; Catholics and the unity of Italy, 207; Outlook from the present state of things, 208; The Pope's present position nothing new in history, 209.

PAGE

ART AND ARTISTS—GIORGIO VASARI. By John A. Mooney, ... 210

Is it art, or only a pretender, that has settled among us? 210; The influence of education, 211; What a skilful historian may do for us, 212; Vasari's position among artists, 213; The young Giorgio finds a patron, 214; Other problems than art that he had to deal with, 215; Vasari and the Medici, 216; After severe studies he tries his powers, 217; He gains a position of independence in the world, 218; Some of his works and friends, 219; Patronized by Pius V., 220; Gathering material for his "Lives of the Painters," 221; Vasari shows us the man as well as the artist, 222; His style and other characteristics, 223; His work is a guide to the study of art, 224; Michel Angelo's tribute, 225.

PRIMITIVE MAN AND HIS SPEECH. By Very Rev. Edward Jacker, . . . 226

Professor Whitney on philology, 226; How he places the problem before us, 227; His view of the cause of language-making, 228; The origin of language and the problem of man's origin, 229; Language and the Darwinian hypothesis, 230; Darwinism not to Mr. Whitney's taste, 231; Mere animal faculties and the production of human speech, 232; Evolution and the possibility of distinctly rational speech, 233; In what condition of utterance and voice were man's immediate progenitors? 234; Views of the Jesuit Father Pesch (footnote), 235; Can the doctrine of creation be reconciled with the evolution theory? 236; A possible construction of the evolutionist hypothesis (footnote), 237; What creation strictly means, 238; Man's primitive condition in regard to language, 239; Mr. Whitney's theory intrinsically inconsistent, 240; How the problem of the origin of language now stands in the world of science, 241.

THE CHURCH IN CANADA UNDER THE FRENCH REGIME. By D. A. O'Sullivan, ... 242

The term establishment with reference to the Church in Canada, 242; Bearing of the encyclical "Immortale Dei" on this question, 243; The Catholic Church cannot be "established by law," 244; This term restricted to national churches, 245; How the case of England is pertinent to the present subject, 246; Position of the Church in England before Henry VIII., 247; How he changed it, 248; A comparison with the Church of France, 249; The Gallican declaration, 250; Ranke's view of the case, 251; Canada's relation to the Gallican Church, 252; The two kinds of establishments, 253; The ecclesiastical jurisdiction over Canada, 254; A quotation from Parkman, 255; The Abbé Queyles and Mgr. Laval, 256; Bishop St. Vallier, 257; An exhibition of the true Gallican spirit, 258; Opposition to the Gallican ordinances, 260; Jurisdictional position of the See of Quebec, 261; More evidence against the Gallican character of the Church in Canada, 262; Examination of particular Gallican claims, 264; Need of a history of the Church in Canada, 265.

CATHOLICITY IN ITALY. By Rev. Bernard O'Reilly, L.D. (Laval), ... 266

A strange scene in the Roman College, 266; The clever strategy of the Pope's enemies, 267; Work of the anti-Christian propagandism in Rome, 268; What the Papacy and the monastic life have suffered in Italy, 269; Why the Papacy should be free, 270; Necessary characteristics of the Papacy, 271; Proof that the Pope is not free in his own city, 272; Leo XIII. on the Temporal Sovereignty, 273; And on the condition of Rome, 274; The kind of education given in the Italian university schools, 275; More of the Revolution's work, 276; The Pope on divorce laws and State education, 277; What the natural consequence is, 278; Ruinous state of the Italian finances, 279; Government opposition to new appointments of bishops, 280; The law of military service for ecclesiastics, 281; The real character of Rome, 282; Anti-Christian laws on matrimony, 283; How things have changed in Italy since 1848, 284; Cantù on Catholicity in Italy, 285.

LECTURES AND CATHOLIC LECTURE BUREAUS. 287

The important proportions which lecturing has recently assumed, 287; Lesson of the passage of arms between Socrates and Phædrus, 288; The imparting of oral teaching, 289; The different kinds of lecturing, 290; Two requisite conditions for university purposes, 291; The university extension movement in England, 292; The financial obstruction barring the way, 293; The activity lately exhibited in Catholic lecturing, 294; Work of the Catholic lecture bureau of St. Louis, 295; Difficulties in the way of an enterprise like this, 296; An observation upon the subjects treated, 297; The positive side of this work for Catholics, 298.

THE TRADITIONAL MISREPRESENTATION OF IRELAND. By Bryan J. Clinche, 299

Hope fostered in the Irish breast by Mr. Gladstone, 299; But the paths of English politics are dark, 300; Reason of the excessive trust of the Irish in the pledges of foreign statesmen, 301; Consistency of the English government's policy of misrepresentation of Ireland, 303; Good effect of the increasing knowledge of the Irish people, 304; It is well if the day of Irish trust in English statesmen has gone, 305.

GOD AND AGNOSTICISM. By Condé B. Pallen, Ph.D., ... 306

The Spencer-Harrison controversy, 306; Mr. Spencer's notion of ideology, 307; Are many of our conceptions truly unrepresentative? 308; Mr. Spencer's view of the three systems of philosophy accounting for the origin of the universe, 309; The hypothesis of self-creation, 310; An assumption without warrant, 311; And still another, 312; A wide hiatus in his argument, 313; Dean Mansel and the inconceivable, 314; Mr. Spencer conceiving an absolute which is dependent, 316; Trying to prove the inconceivability of the first cause, 317; Whence Mr. Spencer's whole difficulty proceeds, 318; He endeavors to demolish his own argument, 319; What Mr. Spencer's absolute really is, 320; Mr. Harrison has decidedly the advantage over him, 321.

PAGE

THE WAGE QUESTION. By George D. Wolff, ... 322

Importance of the question of wages to the working man, 322; The right to live comes first in the natural order, 323; Prominent position which the wage question now occupies, 324; Relation of the wage worker to communism and socialism, 325; Capital dictates the price of labor, 326; Facts shown by examining the leading industries of Pennsylvania, 327; Tables of theoretical and actual wages, 328-333; Remarks on the Report of the Secretary of Internal affairs, 334; There should be no antagonism between capital and labor, 336; Injustice of the public press towards wage workers, 337; Facts easy for the newspapers to bring out, 338; The "Company store" and other abuses, 339; No wonder the wage workers sometimes act in defiance of the law, 340; Special instances of provocation in point, 341; Violences to property and persons, 342; Capitalists making money out of the strikes, 343; Wage workers not lawless as a class, 344.

THE DECREES OF THE THIRD PLENARY COUNCIL. By Rt. Rev. James A. Corcoran, D.D., ... 344

This volume compared with the previous similar one, 344; Character of the enactments herein contained, 345; Office and duties of Consultors, Examiners, and Rural Deans, 346; Irremovable Rectors, 347; The life the clergy ought to lead, 348; Religious orders, Divine worship, Observance of Sunday, 349; On marriage, 350; Training of the clergy, higher education of the laity, parochial schools, 351; Rulings on Christian Doctrine and zeal for souls, 352; Societies of various kinds, church temporalities, the raising of church money by improper means, 353; Free space in churches, picnics, excursions, and other abuses, 354; Ecclesiastical trials and religious burial, 355; Superior character of the provisions of the Third Plenary Council, 355.

THE CHURCH AND CREMATION. By Rt. Rev. James A. Corcoran, D.D., . . 356

A letter to the editor on this subject, 356; Mr. Metcalfe's misconception, 357; What early Christian writers say, 358; Extract from Eusebius, 359; Is cremation necessary for public health? 360; Character of the men who urge the theory and practice of cremation, 361; Cremation may yet be enforced by law, 362.

SCIENTIFIC CHRONICLE. By Rev. J. M. Degni, S.J., ... 363

Scientists among the clergy, 363; Astronomy—The meteoric shower of November 27th, 1885, 367; Celestial photography, 369; Physics—Electricity, 370.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ANATOMICAL ANOMALIES. By Professor Thomas Dwight, M.D., ... 385

Deviations from the human structure often found in the human body, 385; Resemblance between man and other mammals, 386; Analogy in animals to crystalization in inorganic matter, 386; Review of some of the anomalies occasionally found in man, 388; How evolutionists make use of appearances, 389; Statements resting only on weak theories, 390; Testut's explanation of the anomalies of the biceps muscle, 391; Heredity as regards the facts here set forth, 392; The recurrence of variation and of its reproducing peculiarities, 393; Is the occurrence of anomalies consistent with the stability of species? 395.

EDUCATION IN LOUISIANA IN FRENCH COLONIAL DAYS. By M. A. C., . 396

A subject neglected by contemporary educators, 396; Early exploration of the Mississippi, 397; A neglected pioneer of education in Louisiana, 398; How Bienville secured competent teachers, 399; Difficulties of the journey from Paris to New Orleans, 400; What this city was in 1727, 402; Establishment of the Nuns there, 403; Beginning of their work as teachers, 404; Nothing now remains of the dwellings of these exiles, 405; How they took care of the French orphans, 406; A religious procession in colonial days, 407; The religious in a new home, 408; A scene of quaint and gorgeous beauty, 409; The Ursulines particularly successful in developing the musical tastes of their pupils, 410; The educational advantages they gave to girls of every class, 411; Brilliant administration of Vaudreuil, 412; Dissensions among the clergy, 413; Louisiana under Spanish domination, 414; An Irish patron of the nuns, 415; The first girls' school erected in Louisiana fully described, 416.

THE SPIRITUAL IDEA IN DANTE'S "DIVINA COMMEDIA." By Brother Azarias, ... 418

Dante's work intimately connected with his age, 418; Character of the time in which he lived, 419; What inspired the chivalry of that day, 420; And then gave direction to studies, 421; Religion was the time-spirit of that age, 422; The existence of a spiritual life then recognized, 423; How we must enter upon this study, 424; Dante was proud, fiery, and irascible, 426; Circumstances under which his great poem was written, 427; His love for religion became a passion, 429; The common ground on which all supreme intelligences meet, 430; Dante's precursors, 431; Illustrations of his earnestness, 432; The central idea of the Divina Commedia, 433; The poet penetrates the workings of love in the Godhead, 434; How he was enabled to see the source of sin and passion, 436; The mystic surroundings in which he places himself, 438; The great lesson of the Purgatorio, 439; The way of personal purity and holiness, 442; The spirit which animates the poet, 443; The lesson taught him by St. Bernard, 445; The spiritual sense is a golden thread running through the whole poem, 446.

PAGE

THE BRITISH EMPIRE—WHAT IT IS, AND WHAT ARE ITS RELATIONS TO IRELAND. By Hon. John W. Johnston, ... 448

What the British Empire is, 448; Component parts of the Indian Vice-royalty, 449; Of what the British Isles consist, 450; The Isle of Man, 451; The Channel Islands, 452; Other possessions in various parts of the world, 453; England taking lessons from the United States, 455; Advantageous position of British military posts, 456; An adequate idea of the extent of the British Empire, 457; But it has no general Constitution, 458; The Constitution, then, no bar in Ireland's way, 459; Nor even the Articles of Union, 460; The real reason for opposition, 461.

THE CHURCH AND HER HOLYDAYS. By John Gilmary Shea, LL.D., . . . 462

How we in America stand as subjects of the Kingdom of God on earth, 462; Accounting for the holydays, 463; An excellent theory that did not work well, 464; Former holydays in the Spanish portion of the present United States, 465; Exemption in favor of the Indians, 466; The holydays observed in the French settlements, 467; And in the British Isles and provinces, 468; The first synod of Baltimore, 469; Cession of Louisana to the United States, 470; The Concordat with Napoleon, 471; The due observance of holydays always a subject of concern, 472; Ruling of Plenary and Provincial Councils, 474; A uniform discipline now prevails for the first time, 474; Probable result of the suppression of festivals, 475.

DESCARTES' POSTULATE OF EXISTENCE. By R. Meade Bache, ... 476

How we gain access to the truths through fictions, 476; Fundamental criteria for the validity of reasoning, 477: The skeptic's reply to the principle of contradiction, 478; Must we beg the very question of existence? 479; Assailants of Descartes' principle, 480; The light Balmez throws on the subject, 481; Even he has to beg the question, 483; No proposition can be framed to prove the fact of existence, 485; The materialistic view of consciousness, 486; May the ego be eliminated? 487; Descartes' principle is true, but inexpressible in formal terms, 488; An experience in point had by the present writer, 489; The ego and existence are thinkable, but not demonstrable, 490.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF PRAYER. By Rev. M. O. Riordan, ... 491

Prayer as an echo of the voice of humanity, 491; In every form of religion, 492; What prayer really implies, 493; Prayer is both a duty and a necessity, 494; But it does not constitute religion, 495; Prayer not incompatible with God's attributes, 496; Who the opponents of prayer are. 497; Disposing of difficulties on account of God's attributes, 498; The physical science objection is merely specious, 499; Denial of prayer's power in the physical world, 500; What happens as the result of prayer, 501; Prayer is offered for spiritual as well as for temporal blessings, 502; Professor Tyndall's ridiculous test, 503; Some reflections on it, 504.

THE RUSSO-GREEK CHURCH. By John Charles Earle, B.A. (Oxon.), . . . 505

Dr. Palmer's visit to the Greek Church, 505; He assists at worship at St. Petersburg, 506; Origin of the Greek schism, 507; How far the Church is secularized in Russia, 508; Superstition among the Russians, 509; How Mr. Palmer joined the Greek Church, 510; What the authorities thought of his application, 511; Life in a Russian monastery, 512; Religion among the Russian people, 513; A priest with bewilderingly vague ideas of Church unity, 514; The daily life of a Russian priest, 515; Infidelity was then making inroads, 516; A Russian missionary to the Aleutian Islands, 517; Cardinal Newman and the character of Palmer's narrative, 518; Mr. Palmer's serious reflections in Moscow, 519; Charms of the Russian liturgy, 520; The patriarchal library, 521; Russia's first-class monasteries, 522; Lutheran converts to the Russian Church, 523; National characteristics, the icons, etc., 524; Excellent character of Mr. Palmer's narrative, 525.

A GRANDDAUGHTER OF JOSEPH DE MAISTRE. By M. H. Allies, ... 527

The subject of this memoir and her biographer, 527; Worthy descendants of the great writer, 528; The De Maistres are given a French home, 529; Inscrutability of God's ways, 530; A director indispensable in spiritual matters, 531; Through the ordeal of the baths, 532; Gradually bidding farewell to earth, 533; How the end came to Xaverine de Maistre, 534.

THE RAILROAD AND KINDRED MONOPOLIES. By George D. Wolff, . . . 535

Democracy and class domination, 535; The real condition of the working classes, 536; The majority of our people are necessarily toilers, 537; The privileges and powers of corporations, 538; The evil doings of corporations, 539; Stock watering, 540; Instances in point, 541; How the public are robbed, 542; The press also demoralized, 543; Bolstering up weak corporations, 544; An enormous tax needlessly imposed, 545; Fictitious capitalization of anthracite coal monopolies, 546; Remedies proposed to prevent it, 548; Discrimination in favor of individuals and localities, 548; The Philadelphia Gas Works, 549; The Standard Oil Company, 550; Facts in proof, 551; Pennsylvania not favored by her great railroad, 552; Facts that prove this, 553; How much the State is made to lose, 555.

THE ELECTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN AND IRISH HOME RULE, ... 556

Dishonesty of the arguments against Home Rule, 556; It is a wonder the result was not worse, 557; Noble bearing of Messrs. Gladstone and Parnell, 558; Outcome of the electoral contest, 559; Home Rule has not experienced even a shadow of defeat, 560; On Ireland herself depends the final result, 561.

PAGE

SCIENTIFIC CHRONICLE. By Rev. J. M. Degni, S.J., ... 562

Meteorological observations of the signal service, 562; Recent progress of the metallurgy of aluminium, 565; Photographs of the solar spectrum, 567; Pasteur and hydrophobia, 568.

NATURE WORSHIP—THE NEW RELIGION. By Very Rev. R. J. Meyer, S.J., 577

Religion not a characteristic of the modern world, 577; Avowed object of the self-constituted leaders of modern thought, 578; Matthew Arnold betraying their secrets, 579; Modern science as an adversary of religion, 580; Relation of literature to our age, 581; The modern school of culture, 582; Emerson unreasonably admired, 584; Uniform aim of the whole school of culture, 585; The prevalent false views of art, 586; Impropriety in art works, 587; Amenability of polite society to outside influences, 588; Evil results of Nature Worship in France, 590; Character of French infidelity, 591; How people are taught to scoff at religion, 592; It is criminal to pursue pleasure for the sake of pleasure, 593; How national deterioration takes place, 594; Effect of the want of definite religious principles, 595; The duty which Catholics owe to society, 596.

THE MONKS AND CIVILIZATION. By Rev. Edward F. X. McSweeny, D.D., 597

The world is moved by the principled, not by principles, 597; Monks as mediators between rulers and ruled, 598; What they did for free government in England, 599; And the same is true of other States, 600; Always abundant opportunity for charity, 601; Apropos of an old mediæval Bible, 602; Universities founded by the monks, 603; Tributes of Maitland and Guizot, 604; The one vocation common to all the religious orders, 605; As to music, the monks have also made the world their debtors, 606; Character of their edifices, 607; Causes of the monks' decline and fall, 609; Many abuses had crept into their government, 610; What the worst of these were, 611; But the Church soon heals her wounds, 612.

EDWARD HYDE AND HIS DAUGHTER. By R. M. Johnston, ... 613

English disregard for good name, 613; Character and behavior of Edward Hyde, 614; His strange conduct towards his daughter, 615; Anne Hyde's person and character, 616; Her relations with the Duke of York, 617; Her father's dishonorable and indecent language, 618; Fidelity of the Duke of York to his wife, 619; The Chancellor's assertions as to his daughter must have been hypocritical, 620; Rapidity of his rise after her marriage, 621; A letter of King Charles II., 622; Clarendon in exile, 623; He dies in France neglected by his king, 624.

HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN ART. By Rev. J. F. X. O'Connor, S.J., ... 625

Father Garrucci's great work, 625; Its contents, 626; How he composed the book, 627; Nature of Christian art, 628; Religion and the beautiful, 629; Illustrations of the true principles in art, 630; Prophetic meaning expressed in early Christian pictures, 631; Peculiarities of some of the groups, 633; Three subjects concerning St. Peter, 634; The magnificent treasure contained in Fr. Garrucci's volumes, 635.

IS THE CHURCH GAINING OR LOSING GROUND IN CATHOLIC COUNTRIES. By Arthur F. Marshall, B.A. (Oxon.), ... 636

Meaning of the issue here discussed, 636; Misapprehensions as to a government's political attitude towards the Church, 637; Relation of Catholics to political life, 638; as to France, its literature must be taken account of, 639; Positive nature of a Frenchman's character, 640; Exceptional character of the Roman question in Italy, 641; The hostile camps in Italy as well as in France, 642; The one immense gain in all times of persecution, 643; Reasons why non-Catholics suspect the Church to be weakening, 644; The real strength of the Church, 645; Increased respect for the head of the Catholic Church, 646; Advantage of Protestants as to scandals, 647; Proof that the Church is gaining ground, 648; A consoling conclusion drawn, 650.

RELATIVE CONDITION OF WOMAN UNDER PAGAN AND CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION. By His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, ... 651

Miserable life of woman in the ancient Pagan world, 651; The Germans an exception, according to Tacitus, 652; Domestic life in ancient Greece, 653; And in republican and imperial Rome, 654; The model held up to Christian women, 655; Character of the holy women of Christianity, 656; How the Church has exalted woman, 657; Modern advocates of "woman's rights" degrade women, 658; Ennobling character of the Christian law of marriage, 659; Protestants on the evils of divorce, 660; Woman has not been ungrateful for the boon conferred by the Gospel, 661; Alarming increase of divorces in this country, 662; What the effect of the present evil tendency must be, 663; Why the mother should be the first instructor of her children, 664; Advice to mothers, 665.

THE COMING CONFLICT IN THE EAST. By A. de G., ... 666

The recent events in the Balkan peninsula, 666; Review of the Eastern question since 1853, 667; The last Russo-Turkish war and its consequences, 668; Recent changes in the map of Europe, 670; Geographical reasons now actuating the Powers, 671; The sociological phase of the problem, 672; What business interests have to do with it, 673; The foreign policies of Russia and France, 674; The religious side of the question, 675; An "inspired" pamphlet bearing on the issue and on the Papacy, 676; What true statesmanship should do in the case, 678; Not much hope for the "Sick Man" of Europe, 679; The interests of the various powers, 680; Europe is on the eve of a tremendous conflict, 681.

PAGE

WILL THE TORIES GIVE IRELAND HOME RULE? By Thomas Power O'Connor, M.P., ... 682

The outlook for Ireland when Parliament recently met, 682; Public opinion and the Home Rule controversy, 683; Lord R. Churchill reveals a new policy, 684; Advantage taken of it by the Gladstone Liberals, 685; They receive Churchill's speech with fierce joy, 686; The real issue between Gladstone and Chamberlain, 687; Sir W. Harcourt speaks for Gladstone, 688; How he damaged the Government, 689; Smallness of the Liberal Unionist vote in Parliament, 691; A considerable advance in the intentions of the Government, 693; Lord Randolph may outbid Gladstone, 694; He may be actuated by personal reasons, 695; The future of Home Rule seems assured in any case, 696; Effect of Tory Local government bill, 697; Why coercion may be resorted to, 698; The Tories have shown but little good sense so far, 699; The true way of escape from the Irish difficulty, 700.

WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE INDIANS? By Very Rev. Edward Jacker, . . 702

The Third Plenary Council on missions to the Indians, 702; This missionary work not an easy task, 703; A brief review of the various Indian missions, 704; Admirable work of the Jesuits, 705; Government notices of certain missions (footnote), 707; The Indians will live and be civilized, 709; Discussion of the vitality of the North American Indians, 710; Those who will probably have the most numerous descendants, 712; Statistics of the process of absorption (footnote), 713; Capability of the Indian race for civilization, 714; Results in the Indian Territory due to white men (footnote), 715; Improved relations of the Government with the Indians, 716; All has not been failure under the agent system, 717; When Indians may be entrusted with property, 718; Beneficial influence of the better class of agents (footnote), 719; The Indians and the religious question, 720; Very sad missionary experiences, 721; Serious effect of a tribe's removal, 722; Protestant missionaries among the Indians, 723; Tribes that have no Christian missions, 724; Catholics and denominational Indian schools (footnote), 725; Abandonment of a bad agency practice (footnote), 727; A bigoted Presbyterian utterance (footnote), 728; A protest in which all Catholics should join, 729.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM AND PROTESTANTISM. By George Dering Wolff, ... 730

Present attitude of Catholics towards the public schools, 730; Why Protestants should feel sorely disappointed, 731; They will not support denominational schools of their own, 732; Protestants indirectly promoting infidelity, 733; The two principal denominational systems, 734; The plan generally adopted by most honest governments, 735; Excellent results of denominationalism, 736; No valid reason against denominationalism here, 737; How Catholics would be at a disadvantage, 738; Expense of the denominational system, 739; Failure of the present system virtually acknowledged, 740; Economy of denominationalism, 741; Public money wasted on high schools, 742; False economy of Protestant parents, 743; Catholics have won the battle of the schools, 744.

SCIENTIFIC CHRONICLE. By Rev. J. M. Degni, S.J., ... 745

Recent earthquakes, 745; Meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, 746; Nature of this association, 747; Address of Prof. H. A. Newton, papers of the sections, 748; Physics, 749; Geology, 750; Biology and Anthropology, 751; Mechanism of authorship, 752.

BOOK NOTICES.

	PAGE
Alethaurion, or Short Papers for the People (Moore)	764
Algebra, Elementary Treatise on (Bayma)	384
Brownson's Works (Vol. XIX.)	187
Burke (Very Rev. T. N.), Fitzpatrick's Life of	373
Chair of Peter (Murphy)	181
Christian State of Life (Hunolt's Sermons on the)	575
Christian Patience (Ullathorne)	762
Compendium Gradualis et Missalis Romani	575
Divine Office, The (Bacquez)	766
Elements of Geometry (Bayma)	384
English Bible, A Layman's Study of the (Bowen)	764
Englmann's Latin Grammar	767
Fall of Constantinople (Pears)	189
Flora, The Roman Martyr	574
German Psychology of To-Day (Ribot)	759
Gillow's Dictionary of English Catholics	192
Greek Isles and Turkey (Field)	767
Handbook of Christian Symbols, etc	576
Hoffmann's Catholic Dictionary	383
Institutiones Morales Alphonsianæ	376
Ireland's Cause Pleaded, etc. (O'Reilly)	382
Keys of the Kingdom (Moriarty)	191
King Edward the Sixth (Lee)	379
Latin Poems of Leo XIII	768
Leaves from St. Augustine (Allies)	763
Life of Father Luke Wadding (O'Shea)	768
Library of St. Francis de Sales	573
Life of St. Philip Benizi	188
Life of the Venerable Joseph Marchand	574
May Devotion, A Short and Practical (Deymann)	384
Mistakes of Modern Infidels (Northgraves)	572
Monotheism and the Law of Moses at Rome (Formby)	752
Month of May (Debussi)	384
Mother of the King (Coleridge)	757
Murphy Series of Illustrated Catholic Readers	576
Nine Months, The (Coleridge)	183
Orphans and Orphan Asylums (Bort)	763
Outlines of Universal History (Fisher)	571
Parnell Movement, The (O'Connor)	380
Philosophy, Elements of (Hill)	185
Practical Introduction to English Rhetoric (Coppens)	760
Praxis Synodalis	384
Preparation for Death (St. Liguori)	383,765
Railways and the Republic (Hudson)	767
Sanctuary Boys' Illustrated Manual (McCallen)	768
Sadlier's Catholic Directory	383
Scepsis Scientifica (Glanvill)	178
Stories of Duty (Egan)	192
Spirits of Darkness (Gmeiner)	375
Studies in Church History (Parsons)	755
Thirty Years, The (Coleridge)	378
Triumphant Democracy (Carnegie)	766
Truth about John Wyclif, The (Stevenson)	381
Vesperal, The Roman (Jung)	576
Way of Salvation (St. Alphonsus Liguori)	765
Westminster, The Cardinal Archbishop of	576

ELEVENTH YEAR.

THE

AMERICAN CATHOLIC QUARTERLY REVIEW.

RIGHT REV. JAMES A. CORCORAN, D.D.,
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

$5.00 per Annum, in Advance.

Issued in January, April, July, and October. Each number contains 192 large octavo pages, printed from legible type, on fine white paper.

REGULAR AND OCCASIONAL CONTRIBUTORS.

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons,
Most Rev. Charles J. Seghers, D.D.
Rt. Rev. Thomas A. Becker, D.D.
Rt. Rev. James O'Connor, D.D.
Rt. Rev. J. Lancaster Spalding, D.D.
Rt. Rev. F. S. Chatard, D.D.
Rt. Rev. John Walsh, D.D.
Rt. Rev. J. A. Corcoran, D.D.
Rev. H. J. Coleredge, S. J.
Rev. P. Bayma, S. J.
Rev. Walter H. Hill, S. J.
Rev. Edward McGlynn, D.D.
Rev. S. B. Smith, D.D.
Very Rev. Edward Jacker.
Rev. J. M. Degni, S. J.
Rev. A. M. Kirsch, C. S. C.
Rev. J. F. X. Hoeffer, S. J.
Rev. Thomas Hughes, S. J.
Rev. Edward F. X. McSweeny, D.D.
Rev. J. Ming, S. J.
Rev. Bernard O'Reilly, L.D. (Laval).
Rev. H. A. Brann, D.D.
Rev. F. X. Kroll.
Rev. T. J. Jenkins.
Rev. Thomas Quigley.
Rev. M. J. McLaughlin.
Rev. D. Murphy, S. J.
Very Rev. R. J. Meyer, S .J.
Rev. W. P. Treacy.
Rev. J. F. X. O'Connor, S. J.
George D. Wolff.
John MacCarthy.
Kathleen O'Meara.
Prof. Thomas Dwight, M.D.
Prof. R. M. Johnston.
Hon. John W. Johnston.
William J. Onahan.
Joseph A. Nolan, M.D., Ph.D.
Eugene L. Didier.
B. J. Webb.
James A. Cain.
A. J. Faust, A.M., Ph.D.
Prof. St. George Mivart, F.R.S.
Thomas Power O'Connor, M. P.
John Gilmary Shea, LL.D.
John Boyle O'Reilly.
Gen. John Gibbon, U.S.A.
Brother Azarias.
Brother Barbas.
Margaret F. Sullivan.
M. H. Allies.
Arthur F. Marshall, B. A., Oxon.
John Charles Earle, B. A., Oxon.
S. B. A. Harper.
Prof. F. A. Paley, M. A., Cam.
James M. Willcox, Ph.D.
J. J. Barry, M.D.
F. R. Wegg-Prosser.
D. A. O'Sullivan.
R. Meade Bache.
John A. Mooney.
Paul R. Shipman.
Bryan J. Clinche.
F. J. Cummings.
Arthur H. Cullen.
Cindé B. Pallen, Ph.D.

Subscriptions Respectfully Solicited.

Address,

HARDY & MAHONY,

Publishers and Proprietors,

PHILADELPHIA.

No. 505 Chestnut Street,
Box 1044.

CONTENTS, OCTOBER, 1886.

VOLUME XI. NUMBER 44.

I. NATURE WORSHIP—THE NEW RELIGION,
Very Rev. R. J. Meyer, S.J., 577

II. THE MONKS AND CIVILIZATION,
Rev. Edward F. X. McSweeny, D.D., 597

III. EDWARD HYDE AND HIS DAUGHTER,
R. M. Johnston. 613

IV. HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN ART,
Rev. J. F. X. O'Connor, S.J., 625

V. IS THE CHURCH GAINING OR LOSING GROUND IN CATHOLIC COUNTRIES?
Arthur F. Marshall, B.A. (Oxon), 636

VI. RELATIVE CONDITION OF WOMAN UNDER PAGAN AND CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION,
His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, 651

VII. THE COMING CONFLICT IN THE EAST,
A. de G., 666

VIII. WILL THE TORIES GIVE IRELAND HOME RULE?
Thomas Power O'Connor, M.P., 682

IX. WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE INDIANS?
Very Rev. Edward Jacker, 702

X. THE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM AND PROTESTANTISM,
George D. Wolff, 730

XI. SCIENTIFIC CHRONICLE,
Rev. J. M. Degni, S.J., 745

XII. BOOK NOTICES: 752

Monotheism, in the Main, Derived from the Hebrew Nation, and the Law of Moses the Primitive Religion of the City of Rome—Studies in Church History—The Mother of the King. Mary During the Life of Our Lord—German Psychology of To-day; The Empirical School—A Practical Introduction to English Rhetoric: Precepts and Exercises—Christian Patience; The Strength and Discipline of the Soul—Leaves from St. Augustine—Orphans and Orphan Asylums—A Layman's Study of the English Bible, Considered in its Literary and Secular Aspect—Short Papers for the People—Ascetical Works of St. Alphonsus—Preparation for Death, or Considerations on the Eternal Truths. Useful for All as Meditations, and Serviceable to Priests for Sermons; Maxims of Eternity and Rule of Life—The Way of Salvation and of Perfection, Meditations, Pious Reflections, Spiritual Treatises—Triumphant Democracy, or Fifty Years' March of the Republic—The Divine Office Considered from a Devotional Point of View—The Greek Isles and Turkey After the War—The Railways and the Republic—Englmann's Latin Grammar—Sanctuary-Boys' Illustrated Manual—The Latin Poems of Leo XIII—The Life of Father Luke Wadding, Founder of St. Isidore's College, Rome, etc.